Club Overview

Sarcee Fish and Game Association (SFGA) has been in operation since 1958 and is affiliated with Alberta Fish and Game.

Our club's primary goal is to preserve wildlife habitat (thus creating a huntable surplus of wildlife) and to promote its use by hunters, fishers, conservationists and the public.

Our secondary goal is to create a FUN club for the enjoyment of all our members. We host recreational club events and social activities that give back to our members and the public.

Our tertiary goal is to support hunting, fishing, and conservation activities. We do this by promoting activities that increase opportunities for hunting and fishing.

President's Report Happy New Year!

As your new president, I wish you the very best for the coming year and hope to see many of you at our meetings, projects and functions. One of the initiatives that I want to bring to Sarcee Fish and Game, as president and chairman of our meetings, is a new focus on how are meetings are run and what our programs will be. I would like our programs to be more entertaining and appealing to all age groups, and I would like our meetings to be short and to the point. Perhaps we can entice more people into attending, if our meetings are more fun. I would like to incorporate some shooting and fishing activities into our meetings. That sounds like fun to me.

If you have an email address that we do not have, perhaps you could give it to us and we could keep you better informed about the programs we are going to have.

If you have any good ideas for our meetings I would sure appreciate hearing from you. My phone number is 246-3248.

Have a great 2004, and I hope you choose to spend a few hours of your year with us.

Dave McIver

2004 TROPHY MEASURING NIGHT, January 30, 2004

The annual Sarcee Fish and Game Association Trophy Measuring night will be held on Friday January 30, 2004 at the Glamorgan Community Center, located at 4207 41st avenue SW. Admission is $5.00. Doors open at 7:00 pm (Volunteers please arrive at 6 PM) and trophies will be scored on a first come first served basis. The competition is open only to members possessing current trophies (taken during the 2003 hunting season). There is also archery and a youth competition. Members who have trophies that were taken outside of Alberta may enter them in a separate category, where they will compete against other out of province trophies on a percentage basis. Both non-current and non-member trophies are also welcome and will be scored. Due to time constraints, Sarcee Fish and Game may not be able to score some extremely complex trophies such as Caribou. Arrangements can be made to have these trophies scored prior to trophy measuring night. If you have a previously scored trophy that you would like to display, please bring it, along with the score sheet.

Please if you have last year trophies return them to this function or contact Yves Ouellette 663-9708. This is also the deadline for the Bird & Fish entries for our competitions. Also check out later in newsletter about the fun competitions Sarcee Fish and Game Assoc. has and details to enter your friend or hunting buddy name.

2004 Calgary Boat and Sportsmen's Show, Pat Quinn

Pat Quinn
730-2082

This year the show will be February 12 to the 15. This is the Family Day long weekend but the show does not run on the holiday Monday as it has in the past. Instead it starts a day earlier on the Thursday. The show booth and the fishing pond need to be staffed for all shifts. If you would like to help out the club and get into the show for free, please consider working for a shift or two. Day passes for volunteers are provided. Volunteers who work shifts on two or more days will receive an exhibitor pass, good for all days of the show. Parking passes are available or cost reimbursed.

This show is an important fund raising activity for SFGA, and an excellent way to let the interested public know what we are all about.

Wednesday, Feb. 11 Booth set up 7:00 - 9:00pm

Thursday, Feb 12 Fish pond and Booth

Shift 1 1:00 - 4:00 pm Shift 2 4:00 - 7:00 pm Shift 3 7:00 - 9:00pm

Program Report, Art Beck

January 13,2004 We will have Bob Everett updating us on water resources in the South Sask. River basin. Bob sits on the committee that makes recommendations to government on the use of our water into the future. Come, hear the facts. Time permitting, we will have a coyote calling demonstration after the business meeting, which is expected to be short. Bring your call and maybe learn something or maybe give some of us a few lessons. As part of our predator management program, we will likely be having a coyote hunt in January, so here is an opportunity to hone your skills.

February 10,2004 Ray Makowecki, president of AFGA will be our guest. Important discussion on ACA, proposed use of public lands for buffalo ranching, funding for fish and wildlife management plus more will take place.

HABITAT NEWS, HIDE COLLECTION PROJECT – Bryce Chase

The Deadline for the Hide Collection will be Jan 12, 2004, so if you have a hide to turn in, get going. To date have shipped 300 hides with up to 150 more to be gathered from the Hide Collection Depots backyards. I expect will ship about the same number of hides as last year.

2004 Annual Wildlife Banquet -- Volunteers NEEDED!

Keith
Erickson
710-4986

It's hard to believe the banquet is less than 3 months away and we need Volunteers! The banquet committee would be very pleased to have you as a volunteer. So, if you have would like to have fun helping out with our banquet, please call Keith Erickson @ 710-4986.

This year's banquet will be held again at Thorncliffe Greenview Community Hall on Saturday, March 13th. It is sure to be another very entertaining evening. To purchase tickets please call Dave McMaster @ 240-1493.

While the banquet's main purpose is to be a fun evening for our members and guests, its secondary purpose is to raise club-operating funds for the year. Funds raised during the banquet allow us to keep our membership costs at a reasonable rate and subsidize other membership benefits. So, if you can help us to secure prizes or services to be offered as a fundraiser in our banquet, please call George Loades @ 281 - 8888.

Also, we still need meat! In the form of moose, elk, duck & goose breast and fresh (only) fish. Contract Art Beck 274-5924 or Lawrence at Horizon Meats 291-0595.

Win Free Banquet Tickets or $50.00

Three of Sarcee Fish and Game's most interesting trophies are frequently not given out because no one nominates a story or candidate for these trophies. To encourage you to nominate someone, we are giving out two prizes for submitted entries. First prize is $50.00 and the second prize is $25.00. We know there are many interesting stories out there that we would like to hear about, so we are asking for submissions for the following trophies.

Stinker Trophy Give us a story about a member who has made a foolish blunder or silly booboo while pursuing a Fish and Game activity.

S. H. Luck Trophy Write down a story about a member who had an incredible stroke of luck or was extremely fortunate while hunting or fishing, etc.

Disappearing Whitetail Award Jot down the details of an incident about a member who was asleep at the job or just screwed up while hunting Whitetails. Stories should be basically true, but feel free to use some poetic license, and make a good story out of it. Turn written entries into any member of the executive. Don't worry about your composition, just jot it down and get it in. Deadline: February 15/04

Photography 2003, Murray Schultz

Thanks again to our judges, who looked at nearly 200 photos.

Once again Sarcee was in the finals at the AFGA provincial trophy awards with Mary Lynn Brown winning the 1st in the Alberta Scenery category. This year 2003 contest is the same as last year, so be sure to enter all those photos.

Stores 2003, Murray Schultz

The stores has many items to offer our membership a good place to pick something up is at the monthly meetings. Items include Hats, Caps, Water Bottles, Flashlights, Pins and Record books

Bird Report 2003, Art Yeske

Happy New Year 2004!

Please submit all your Bird Entries for 2003 before or at the Trophy Measuring Night Jan 30, 2004. To correct the last newsletter, the Dave Yeske Memorial YOUTH Game Bird Trophy goes to the youth member 18 years of age or younger (i.e. under 19) All these club competitions, are participation events for beautiful SFGA trophies and keeper plaques. Our club's winners are enter into the provincial AFGA Competitions.

We had a Great year in 2003 as previously reported and the highlight was the very successful Millarville Community – Youth Pheasant Raise & Release Project. Which involved 11 families to raise and release 110 pheasants. Dean Loewen did a super job and he is willing to stay with it for another year. Thanks Dean.

I am happy to report that new member Bob Workum has agreed to assist me this year. He is keen!

We hope to have another great year for pheasants in 2004. Thanks to Frasers, Ernsts and Otto Nagy who are over wintering birds.

A Christmas Card from one of my farmer friends said "Wow – 4 cocks pheasants on the bales south of the house one day". It made my year!

I invite your call if you have any questions or suggestions, Art Yeske 249-7245

Crossfield Fish Pond 2003, The Pond Crew

In the fall of 2002 Art Beck reached an agreement with Prime West Energy for our club to take over stewardship of the Crossfield trout pond.

At the next meeting on April 17, 2003 Prime West & Sarcee's Art Beck, Leo Gagne & Dean Barysien drew up a working agreement and set a date for the annual Physically Challenged Fish Derby as Sunday June 8, 2003.

It was decided that the pond should be chain link fenced to reduce the vandalism and other unneeded activities that were occurring at the Pond. George Loades found us a large amount of used fence at the old Cominco Fertilizer site, free for the taking. Dale Lucas picked up the ball and soon we had enough fence for the pond and some pheasants pens.

Dean Barysien with help from Keith Erickson and many club members did a great job on the Handicapped Fish Derby. Also Bill Allen Trout farms helped a bit to make this a splashing success.

Lynx Fencing, fenced the pond and set guide posts at the culvert grade. The new gate is in place.

Stan Hehr Trucking built an approach road into the parking area.

Rob Mackenzie cut many acres of grass and weeds as well as opening the gates and signing up new members.

Many Thanks to Leo Gagne, Jonn Kapjek, Rob MacKenzie for the help and grounds work. Yves Ouellette for the great picnic tables, and all the fence crew.

This little pond was a busy spot in 2003!

Murray Schultz, ROB MacKenzie & Leo Gagne

Membership 2003, Kraig McIver

Great job SFGA members! We sold a few less memberships than last year but overall we did well. Here are the final totals for 2003:

2002		2003		Clubs Top Sellers
Regular	278	Regular	256	Bryce Chase	191
Associate	0	Associate	0	Art Yeske	122
Family	104	Family	100	Dave McIver	52
Dependants	247	Dependants	231	Art Beck	52
Youth	50	Youth	49	Kraig McIver	43
Other Club	11	Other Club	15	Dan Radomske	40
				Verne Murray	35
Total	690	Total	651	Mary-Lynn Brown	18

Here's a thought: Buy one of your friends a membership (memberships make great gifts) and help Sarcee Fish & Game Association accomplish its goals.

Primary Purpose To promote education about, protection of, and the development of wildlife interests; and to provide recreation and entertainment for its members.

Secondary Purpose To support Alberta Fish and Game Association in its objectives in the development, conservation and preservation of wildlife policies, species and habitat; and to support Alberta Fish and Game Association's other programs.

Lands and Environment Committee Report 2003, Dave McIver

Similar to last year, most of my activity as chairman of this committee came from my position as SFGA's representative on the Calgary Parks Foundation's River Valleys Committee (RVC). The steering committee that I was on, to create a new business plan and define the mandate of this committee as it tackles the river valley problems for the 21st Century was successful. City hall passed a motion assuring our continued existence and gave us some secure funding. The focus of this committee is to protect the river valleys of the city with respect to development, environmental damage, wildlife habitat, and public use. As in the past, the committee will be connected to the Calgary Parks Foundation and retain its role as an advisory body to City council on the river valleys. The River Valleys Committee played an important role in some of the main development concerns along the river valleys this past year. These include the squashing of the ill-proposed East Village proposal and the retention of some valuable habitat in the Cominco lands Development. The development of the "mink farm" area south of Carburn Park and the proposed development of the Weir area, are still under consideration. The new sewage plant at Pine Creek looks like it is going to be a real environmental "class act". The development of the area just East of Spruce Meadows is of primary concern now. There are two very important wetlands in that area, which need to be protected and enhanced, rather than minimized as the developers wish. Sarcee also was involved with the RVC by donating $1200.00 to the production of an educational video on the importance of wetlands to our city. We are looking forward to its release.

Sarcee has also been in discussion with various landowners in relation to retaining or purchasing property to be set aside for habitat.

If you have any concerns relating to Lands and Environment give Bob Everett or myself a call.

A hunting we will go: University professor Lee Foote finds spirituality -- and healthy food -- on his annual hunts

If you like the sound of gunfire in the mountains, Saturday morning was your symphony. Throughout the southern half of Alberta, that was the day hunters headed for the hills and forests to secure their winter meat supply from wild game sources. The obvious question is: why not just go to the grocery store? That question is the jumping-off point for a philosophical divide between hunters and non-hunters.

For most hunters, the motivation is strong to go out and try to kill their own animal for consumption. It has to be, because of its costs: wildlife identification card ($8), basic wildlife certificate ($22.85), white-tailed deer licence ($31.75), economy deer rifle ($300), firearms licensing ($18), cartridges for practice and hunting (approximately $50). Our hunter's outlay is $421 for a month of hunting. That is about the cost of a two-day weekend of skiing or golfing in Banff, if you pinch pennies.

What are the benefits to the successful hunter? A mature whitetail buck will provide about 50 kilograms of succulent lean meat worth about $300 at supermarket prices. Wild-killed venison, however, is priceless because it is illegal to sell it in Alberta. For one deer, our hunter has paid $3.80 per pound. Many hunters legally harvest four deer per year on various draws and permits and can bring the cost down to under a dollar per pound. The occasional moose or elk is an additional jackpot. Alberta is one of the few places where even urbanites can make a reasonable economic argument for subsistence harvesting.

But hunting is much much more than economics. Venison meals also bring a sense of satisfaction found in harvesting from nature. To make this real to non-hunters, consider how home-canned raspberry preserves not only taste better than store-bought, but they bring a pride and satisfaction to our tables that makes them quite different from anything Smuckers can deliver. Many people find it easier to give thanks over a venison roast than a pork loin, for example. Hunting for one's meat protein also becomes an act of community and shared experience. The organized pursuit, kill, processing and packaging, predispose us to share this bounty. Offering parts of one's kill to landowners, hunting party members, family and friends is the norm. In contrast, when was the last time any of us bought beef or poultry to distribute to our friends?

What about the meat? Venison is to beef what homegrown tomatoes are to those tasteless hydroponic things at the supermarket. Venison has an identity and a character; there are thousands of ways it can be enjoyed. The same deer may provide peppery oven-dried jerky, butter-broiled loin medallions, slow-cooked cubed stew meat, smoked hams, garlic sausage and . . . well, you get the idea. Sure, we cook it differently but, then again, we cook bacon and chicken differently, too.

Cattle have been bred to store fat, called marbling, between their muscle fibres. Deer store their fat between skin and muscle, much like chickens, so it is easily trimmed to provide a very healthy, low-fat meat. Venison also contains approximately twice as much iron as beef, and iron is one of the most common nutrient deficiencies in North America. This is all natural, organic meat that was born, raised and killed quickly in its own unfenced living space -- the ultimate free-range production system.

Despite all the rational, logical, social, health-related and culinary reasons to hunt, most hunters go out because it is so meaningful, personally rewarding, and fun. Our modern world consists of contrivances and conveniences, synthetics and climate control; many people deeply crave the elemental and basic process of re-connecting to the earth.

We hunters find it gratifying in a spiritual realm to take responsibility for our food. Approaching the steaming carcass of a freshly killed white-tailed deer on a snowy hillside reinforces the profound realization that other things must die for us to live. Hunters do not live in a state of denial or belief that our bacon, broccoli and bullion just come from IGA.

A deer's death at our hand provides a lesson in reality, mortality, and validates that we are vividly alive and connected to the earth again. This is a rare and precious gift that can fundamentally change the way we see our world.

This gift contains the seeds of an environmental ethic. Hunters carry some of the strongest commitments toward protecting the land that produces the deer and associated creatures so that deer descendants may thrive and bring life and meaning to future generations of hunters in wild native habitats.

Lee Foote is a biologist and associate professor in renewable resources at the University of Alberta.
